Evolution in Teaching Math since the 1960s:

Teaching Math In 1960: A logger sells a truckload of lumber for \$100. His cost of production is $\frac{4}{5}$ of the price. What is his profit?

Teaching Math In 1970: A logger sells a truckload of lumber for \$100. His cost of production is $\frac{4}{5}$ of the price, or \$80. What is his profit?

Teaching Math In 1980: A logger sells a truckload of lumber for $100. His cost of production is $80. Did he make a profit?

Teaching Math In 1990: A logger sells a truckload of lumber for $100. His cost of production is $80 and his profit is $20. Your assignment: Underline the number 20.

Teaching Math In 2000: A logger cuts down a beautiful forest because he is selfish and inconsiderate and cares nothing for the habitat of animals or the preservation of our woodlands. He does this so he can make a profit of $20. What do you think of this way of making a living?

Topic for class participation after answering the question: How did the birds and squirrels feel as the logger cut down their homes? (There are no wrong answers.)

POINTS TO PONDER

One day someone's mother died and on that clear, cold morning, in the warmth of her bedroom, the daughter was struck with the pain of learning that sometimes there isn't any more. No more hugs, no more lucky moments to celebrate together, no more phone calls just to chat, no more "just one minute."

Sometimes, what we care about the most goes away . . . never to return before we can say good-bye or say "I love you." So while we have it . . . it's best we love it . . . and care for it and fix it when it's broken . . . and take good care of it when it's sick. This is true for marriage ... and friendshipsand children with bad report cards; And dogs with bad hips; And aging parents and grandparents. We keep them because they are worth it, because we cherish them . . . Life is important, and so are the people we know . . . and so, we keep them close!

Great minds discuss ideas;
Average minds discuss events;
Small minds discuss people.

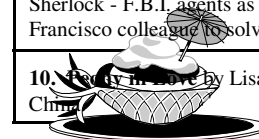

Beautiful young people are accidents of nature,
But beautiful old people are works of art.

Many people will walk in and out of your life,

but only true friends will leave footprints in your heart.

Library Lecture Series

"Untold Stories about Pine Valley"

With Bart Anderson

WHEN: Tuesday, August 14, 6:30 p.m.

WHERE: St. George Library Community Rm A

The woods are full of stories...and it isn't necessary to leave the area to hear some of the "untold stories about Pine Valley." This fascinating lecture will be given by Bart Anderson, Southern Utah's bottomless pit of little-known facts about well-known people and places. Anderson may not shed any light on Red Riding Hood, Goldilocks, Hansel and Gretel, or even famed naturalist John Muir, but you're bound to hear some Pine Valley stories you've never heard before. This lecture is free to the public.

Anime Fannatiku will be held in the lower level of the St. George Library Saturday, August 25, from 11:00 - 3:00. Come dressed in Cosplay and show off your stuff. There will be prizes and raffle tickets. You can email any questions to: animefannatiku-stg@hotmail.com

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

The next large scale Used Book Sale will be held November 9th and 10th in Community Room A. All funds raised go to support the Library system.

How to Tell the Sex of a Fly

A woman walked into the kitchen to find her husband stalking around with a fly swatter. "What are you doing?" she asked. "Hunting flies,” he responded. “Oh, killing any?” she asked. “Yep, 3 males, 2 females,” he replied. Intrigued, she asked, “How can you tell them apart?” “Three were on beer cans, two were on the phone.”
